Dear Parties:

Yesterday, a Motion to Intervene was filed in this matter.

Although the Motion to Intervene has not been granted and parties have the right to respond to said Motion, I would suggest that in the abundance of caution that it is advisable for this conference scheduled for today to be rescheduled until another time following a ruling on the Petition to Intervene so that all parties can participate and avoid potential scheduling issues. Therefore the procedural conference call scheduled for today at 3:30 pm. Is cancelled and will be rescheduled.

As you are aware, a copy of this email are filed in the DMS; however, without the specific call in information. While there is an argument and legal basis that this call is clearly allowable under the law and not ex parte, it is advisable to avoid any possible impression of impropriety or potential appearance of an ex parte communication since there is another entity who may be a party. It is also reasonable for parties to a proceeding to participate in the discussion about the procedural schedule in the matter.

Parties have 10 days to respond to the Motion to Intervene under the rules of the Commission. Following the passage of this 10 day period, unless there are letters filed in the DMS by all parties consenting to the intervention, the motion would be ripe for consideration by the Commission.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Once the Motion to Intervene is ruled upon, I will be in touch again with all parties to obtain a date and time for a conference call to establish the procedural schedule in this matter. If the parties consent or agree to allow counsel to participate in the procedural conference prior a ruling on a client's Motion to Intervene, please advise as this conference could possibly be rescheduled earlier.

Jo Anne
